Welcome to Life Forest

Join the many who have chosen Life Forest as a greener, more affordable alternative to traditional burial, and have made a commitment to protect our forests.

By choosing Life Forest you too can help protect this land forever.

Life Forest is committed to educating the public and has proudly earned Arboretum Accreditation.

Tour Our Property

We invite you to take a tour of our property independently, and we would like to highlight points of interest. Please use this to guide you along your way. If able, we encourage you to walk to the end of the path where you will intersect with Shedd Brook.

Feel free to take along your animal companions, pets are always welcome.

Along your route, be sure to look at all the details that make Life Forest so special. First and foremost are the trees that mark all of our Life Forest family members.

Take your smartphone and you can scan many sites via QR code and read about the special people at rest there.

 Begin your tour at our main garden or open burial area, established in 2019. You will find trees in different stages of growth, personally selected by each family. The forest is ever growing with new additions throughout our planting season. As you will see, many of our trees still have a watering bag attached. The bags ensure proper watering and will be removed in their third year once approved by our arborist.

Lining the main burial area path, you will find our Pollinator Garden. This area is dedicated to single ash burials; making Life Forest attainable for all budgets is a priority. Take note of the large evergreen nearest our fence. This is our Evergreen Grove and is also for single ash burials. Many of the spaces here are a part of our Guardianship Program.

Continuing through the first burial area you will find a Little Free Library. Our books focus on grief. We hope to offer a gentle and familiar place for children that are acclimating to a life with loss.

 Moving along on the path you will next find our Arch Garden. The Arch Garden is our second phase of burial space and was opened in the spring of 2022. It is marked by two beautiful birch trees intertwined at the entrance.

Just past the Arch Garden we have a second parking area that adjoins our third burial phase. The Evergreen Area, similar to the Arch Garden in its privacy, was cleared for burial at the end of the 2022 season.

Now crossing the wooden walkway, known as our wetlands crossing, will place you in proximity to our Phone of the Wind, a beautiful sentiment in which you can privately converse with those that have passed on.

The Life Forest Grief Labyrinth

Labyrinths have been used for centuries as a tool to help explore feelings. We look forward to offering our visitors the opportunity to reflect and process their grief in a peaceful and private setting.

Deeper in the forest along the path, you will find an impressive glacier boulder on your right which resembles a whale. This is one of two glacier boulders on our property.

Shedd Brook is also a gorgeous sight. When the water is plentiful, the sound is fantastic. Follow the Life Forest path to its' end and turn left.
